OVERVIEW

Executive summary

Omboga Community Resource Centre is a free, community-run resource centre on the Omboga–Wikondiek Road. We ask partners to help us keep every service free, grow our 6 programmes and show, with our own records, exactly what their support achieved.

What we ask

Annual partnerships from KSh 25,000 a year to KSh 400,000 a year, programme sponsorships, naming of a space, or gifts in kind such as computers, books and solar equipment.

What partners get

Recognition on the donor wall, website and inside the centre, quarterly impact reports drawn from real attendance and loan records, staff volunteering days, and verified receipts for every gift.

01 · ABOUT THE CENTRE

01

A community answer to a community question

Omboga Community Resource Centre opened in 2021 on the Omboga–Wikondiek Road in Kanyaluo, after a group of residents, teachers and church leaders asked a simple question: where can our children read, where can our young people get online, and how can neighbours access safe clean water?

It began with two rooms, a few hundred donated books and three computers. Today the centre has a lending library, a computer lab, a quiet study room, a 6-tap solar-powered community clean water kiosk and a hall that hosts meetings, training and celebrations for the whole of Kanyaluo and the villages around it.

The centre is run by a small staff team and volunteers, and governed by a community board. Every visit, loan and computer session is recorded, so the centre can show its partners exactly who it serves.

OUR MISSION

To give everyone in Kanyaluo a free, welcoming place to read, learn, use a computer, access clean water and meet.

> When a community has a place to learn, everyone in it can rise.

03 · WHY YOUR SUPPORT MATTERS

Keeping the doors open, the lights on and the water flowing

03

Every service at the centre is free to the people who use it. That is only possible because partners cover the cost of books, computers, power, water and the staff who run them.

The clean water kiosk serves the whole village

1 Books and learning materials
Fiction, textbooks, past papers and children's books.

2 Computers and internet
Public PCs, laptops for training and a reliable connection.

3 Solar power & 6-tap clean water
Solar panels, inverter and our 6-tap borehole water kiosk so lights, PCs and clean water stay on.

4 Hall and furniture
Chairs, tables and equipment for events and training.

5 Programmes
Facilitators and materials for the six programmes.

6 Running costs
Staff, cleaning, security and maintenance.

Gifts in kind we can put to work straight away

- ✓ Laptops and PCs
- ✓ Books
- ✓ Furniture
- ✓ Solar panels and inverter
- ✓ Water filtration and kiosk fittings
- ✓ Projector and PA system

Every item given is tagged and recorded in the centre's assets register, with its location and condition, so partners can see where their equipment is and how it is used.

Sponsor a programme

Fund one programme for a year, a term or a single activity: facilitators, materials, certificates and transport. You receive attendance figures and stories, and your name on the certificates.

Give your time

Company and community volunteers can tutor, mentor, run a CV clinic or help at events. We plan volunteering days around your team's calendar.

05 · ACCOUNTABILITY AND REPORTING

Support you can see at work

05

The centre runs on its own management system. Members sign in with a card, books are scanned out and back, and every computer session has a start and an end time. That is how we know who we serve, and how partners get figures they can trust.

Quarterly impact reports

Visits, members, loans, computer hours and programme attendance, with photos and short stories.

Verified receipts

Every gift gets a numbered receipt and is ring-fenced for the cause the partner chooses.

Tagged equipment

Donated items carry an asset tag and appear in the register with their room, condition and history.

Checkable certificates

Certificates and membership cards carry a code and QR that anyone can verify online.

Open visits

Partners are welcome during opening hours to meet the team and the people who use the centre.

Community governance

A community board oversees finances and direction, and signs off the annual report.

Reporting calendar

1

Within a week

Receipt and a thank-you note from the board

2

Every quarter

Impact report with figures from the centre's records

3

Every year

Annual report and an invitation to the community open day
